Collegiate LT Program Assessment

Thank you for your interest in a Collegiate Leadership Training (LT) program! Reliant Mission (Reliant) is excited to partner with Collegiate Church Network to help administer and coordinate the Collegiate LT Programs!

Leadership Training is a summer-long program for followers of Jesus who attend member churches within Collegiate Church Network. It is for those who desire to be transformed into people who impact their worlds as they live out their faith.

The primary audience for an LT program is members of one of the churches within Collegiate Church Network. It is a chance to gain momentum as a movement and for participants to be trained in Christian leadership.

When you apply to LT, you will be put through an assessment process that will help program leadership determine if a summer at LT is a good fit for you.

We care about your spiritual, physical, and emotional health, and we desire to see you flourish. We love LT and also see the value in a summer spent receiving care and training in other contexts. Ultimately, we want to set you up for success no matter what your summer holds.

The Program you are applying for is financially administered by Reliant and therefore is considered a joint sponsored event by both Reliant and Collegiate Church Network. If you are accepted to a Collegiate LT Program, you will be representing Reliant as well as the Collegiate Church Network during your participation in this Program.

NOTE: This assessment is not for Collegiate interns wanting to be employed by Reliant during the Program. Is is for Collegiate LT applicants wanting to attend the program.

Estes Park Collegiate LT

Estes Park Leadership Training (EPLT) is an 11 week summer discipleship program for college students. At

EPLT you will be living and working at the YMCA of the Rockies in the outdoor paradise of Estes Park, CO. Living adjacent to the Rocky Mountain National Park-you can literally walk out your front door and within minutes climb a mountain or hike in the woods."

The YMCA provides a close-knit community as you live and work alongside the same people allowing you to easily establish new relationships. The YMCA of the Rockies is a coveted summer work experience for people all around the world (more than 50 countries may be represented)! As you enjoy the outdoors and the amenities of the area, you'll have many natural opportunities to build deeper relationships with the people you live and work with. This provides the perfect setting for talking about spiritual subjects.

There are two applications you are required to complete for this Program. This application is for registration into the . The other, is with the YMCA of the Rockies for employment. Acceptance as an employee of the YMCA is mandatory for participation in the Program.

As part of the , and as part of your employment agreement with the YMCA, each participant is required to work a full-time, 40 hr/week job. The reason for this is to provide an environment for meeting and building natural relationships- important for developing the skills you will be learning this summer. Obviously, most participants will need to earn an income to help pay for Program costs, school, and personal expenses. Your job at the YMCA also secures and provides food and housing during the program, so being hired by the YMCA is mandatory in order to participate in the Program.

How does employment with the YMCA of the Rockies work?

The YMCA of the Rockies- Estes Park Center (EPC) employs all of our participants and houses them in their dorms. Compensation includes food and housing plus approximately $220 per week ($5.50 hourly) in additional wages for 40 hours of work. Every worker is guaranteed at least 40 hours per week.

At the YMCA's discretion, there may be an opportunity for Program participants to stay on and continue to work with the YMCA after the Program has officially ended. Please note: A participant's continuation of employment with the YMCA after the end of the Program is solely between the participant and the YMCA and is fully independent of Reliant Mission and ; no Program leadership will be present or available, and the participant is solely under the care and leadership of the employer (the YMCA).

While the YMCA does not cover the LT Program fee, compensation includes food and housing plus approximately $300 per week in additional wages for 40 hours of work.

Does the Program guarantee employment for all participants?

The Program cannot guarantee anyone a job for the summer. In fact, your participation in the requires that you apply for and receive employment from the YMCA of the Rockies. Your hiring is completely up to the YMCA. Make sure that you take interviews with the YMCA seriously and hold to your work agreement dates.

How do I apply for employment with YMCA of the Rockies?

You can apply online for a job with the YMCA of the Rockies at <http://www.ymcarockies.org>. Look under employment.

Please download and use this “How to Fill Out the YMCA of the Rockies Application Without Mistakes” handout to ensure you correctly notify the YMCA of your desired participation in LT.

Financial Responsibility

As part of this Program it is expected that I will raise ministry funds for the Program. I understand that I am expected to raise the required ministry support goal by the Program deadline in order to attend the Program.

I understand that contributions given to Reliant by donors are not considered personal gifts to myself as an individual. The donors are giving to the Reliant Program ministry fund. Donated funds must be used to further the ministry purposes that Reliant communicates to our financial partners. As a 501(c)(3) non-profit, Reliant ensures that donations to Reliant are used for the purpose for which they are given, subject to Reliant's policies and guidelines.

In accordance with IRS requirement, all gifts are subject to Reliant's full control and discretion. If I should I raise excess funds for Reliant, it is up to the discretion of the Program event leader and Reliant how to use the funds for this Program ministry or similar ministries or programs.

I also agree as a Participant of this Program to not ask for any additional funds to be given for participation of this Program outside of Reliant (either on my own or through additional online funding vehicles such as Go Fund Me, etc.). I agree that all donations as a Participant of this Program will be sent to Reliant.

I also agree to not begin raising financial support for the Reliant Program event fund until after I have received an acceptance email for the .

Non-refundable donation clause

If I do not raise enough ministry support and/or have to cancel my participation in the Program, to meet IRS guidelines, it is Reliant's policy that the donors will be unable to receive contribution refunds for my cancellation. This non-refundable clause is necessary for all donor contributions to Reliant and the Program to be considered tax deductible by the IRS.

Help Us Know You Better

LT stands for Leadership Training. We are looking to train the next generation of church leaders during our Collegiate LT Program this summer. Though all Christians are called to Christ-likeness, ministry or church leaders are held to a higher standard because of their responsibility and influence. This program is designed to help train future leaders for leadership opportunities in Collegiate churches and therefore does have a high standard for acceptance.

Please explain what it means to know and follow Christ:

(No response)

Briefly tell us how and when you came to know Christ:

(No response)

Are you willing to actively take the initiative to share your faith during the ?

(No response)

Tell us a little about yourself. Describe your personality and strengths. Include areas of growth that you see right now:

(No response)

Are you currently serving, volunteering, or leading at your local church or collegiate ministry?

(No response)

What motivated you to want to apply for the ?

(No response)

Have you ever previously attended a Collegiate LT program?

(No response)

The questions in this portion of our assessments are rooted in our understanding of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in the Scriptures. We want you to know that we care about you and our heart in asking these questions is to make sure that our participants will have a good experience during this Program. Thank you so much for taking the time to fill this information.

As sinners saved by grace ourselves, we have a long history and deep value of showing grace, like Jesus. Although we are not trained or licensed counselors and no Reliant staff provide professional counseling services, we expect all our Reliant and Collegiate assessors, Program Directors, and representatives to be sensitive, thoughtful and grace-filled when discussing these sensitive areas. The information disclosed will be treated with respect and honor and will only be seen by individuals directly involved in your application decision or appropriate leadership oversight during the Program. When applicable within the assessment process, we may follow up to ask further questions about moral or emotional areas of concern, including but not limited to: Description of areas of concern, repetitive nature of area of concern, recency of area of concern, steps taken to address areas of concern, etc.

Program Readiness

LT can be strenuous. For some, the challenge of being disconnected from social media, living, eating, and working with the same people in close proximity every day is a lot. When coupled with the trials of character growth, Biblical intake, and contact evangelism LT can be more physically, spiritually, emotionally, and mentally demanding than many anticipate. We want to make sure that you understand what to expect so that you can make an informed decision as to whether this Program is the right fit for you.

We recognize that participation in the which includes attending group teachings and accountability groups, as well as required reading while you are maintaining a full-time job, can add life stress that could compound or resurface previous patterns of emotional unhealthiness and should be approached with wisdom.

In the past 6 months, have you gone through a time (or times) where you felt extremely sad or depressed on a deeper level that you think may have been more than “normal?”

Collegiate LT Policies

Please read and review the Collegiate LT Program Policies and Standards of Conduct.

Financial Policies

A Collegiate LT Program assessment fee is required to complete this assessment. Each stateside Collegiate LT Program also has a Program fee. There is a Program fundraising ministry support goal requirement for International Collegiate LT Programs. The total Program fees and fundraising requirement amounts and due dates are specific to each Program.

Participants agree to complete all Program financial obligations. Any exceptions must be granted in writing by the Program Director. If a stateside Collegiate LT participant does not complete their payment obligation, the fee will remain attached to the participant's name and before they can attend another Reliant event, the participant will be required to pay their outstanding fee. As part of a Collegiate International LT Program, it is expected that participants will raise ministry funds for the Program. Participants are expected to raise the required ministry support goal by the Program deadline in order to attend the Program.

There are generally no refunds for the Program. Any possible refund will be decided on a case by case basis-and only for extreme cases. There are no refunds for participants who are dismissed or choose to leave the Program.

Employment

For stateside LT Programs, employment is mandatory for participation in the Program. It is the Participant's sole responsibility to secure employment. Participants are expected to be good examples of leadership in the workplace and employment during the Program. Involuntary termination or being fired from employment while at LT would result in immediate dismissal from the Program.

There are currently no employment opportunities for International Collegiate LT Programs.

Above Reproach

To be above reproach means that there is no accusation that could have merit. Consider how to conduct yourself in such a way as to glorify God and maintain your testimony with others.

Guest Policy

Overnight guests are typically permitted on a space available basis. All guests must be approved. Fees may be assessed by your Program for overnight guests. Please consult your individual program policies for more program specific details.

Visitation

In the spirit of being above reproach, LT would encourage participants to refrain from being alone in a room or in a private setting with someone of the opposite sex. In addition, visitors are welcome in common areas of housing (but not bedrooms). See individual program policies for more program specific details.

Curfew

To be a leader is to learn to establish priorities and maintain responsibilities. Therefore, there is no established curfew (unless specified by your specific Program location). It is our desire for each participant to decide when to be in and when to go to bed in order to fulfill one's responsibilities. These responsibilities include getting to work and LT Program events on time and in a state of mind to engage. Due to safety concerns, our Program may establish other curfew policies for your safety.

Safety

Since each location has its own inherent risks, we encourage the following:

- Do not be out alone in the dark, especially late at night.
 - Let others know where you are going and when you expect to return. Having your cell phone with you and charged can help alleviate any concerns that may arise. (Although be aware that cell phone coverage can be minimal or non-existent in certain locations.)

Emotional Health

Collegiate cares about you and your safety. If the director believes that the Participant is emotionally unhealthy, which could include but is not limited to, severe depression or anxiety or harm to self or others, then the Participant may be asked to leave the Program.

Alcohol

Since the Bible does not forbid drinking to those who are of legal age, we do not as well. However, if you are under the legal drinking age, twenty-one years of age, drinking is strictly forbidden. Drinking under the legal drinking age could result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Our hope and prayer is that participants will learn to conduct themselves in the highest integrity before God. Key Biblical principles are: Not to use our freedom in such a way as to cause someone else to sin and to maintain a good testimony before God and man. The Program staff will refrain from drinking around students. Drunkenness could result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Due to culture conditions in international settings, this rule may be modified by the Program Director.

Partying and Bars

There is a diversity of perspectives on the issue of clubbing and patronage at bars. In general, clubbing and attending bars are inconsistent with the goals of the Program unless the intent is specifically and intentionally for outreach. Partying and attendance at bars are strongly discouraged during the Program. Any immorality or drunkenness with a bar, club or house party may result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Any sexual impropriety at a bar or club could also result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Key Biblical principles are: Not to use our freedom in such a way as to cause someone else to sin and to maintain a good testimony before God and man.

Drug Policy

Since Collegiate LT Programs are a training program and not a local church, LT is not equipped to deal with drug dependency or addiction issues. Illegal drug use may result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Exceptions may be granted by the Collegiate Executive Director Team.

If a participant was found to distribute illegal drugs (including distributing alcohol to minors), the participant would be immediately dismissed from the Program.

Drug Testing

It is not the practice of Collegiate LT Programs to conduct or implement drug testing. If drug testing were utilized, it would be at the participants expense and as a condition of remaining in the Program. Drug testing may be done after a Drug Policy violation and/or when there is reason to question the validity of a participant's claim.

Sexual Misconduct

Collegiate LT Programs believe that the Holy Scriptures state that sexual practices outside of a heterosexual marriage are sexual sins (Romans 1:26-27, I Corinthians 6:9-10; Leviticus 18:22, 20:13). Any sexual practices that the Program determines to be Biblically forbidden are considered a violation of Collegiate LT Program's standards, and could result in immediate dismissal from the Program. Some examples of sexual misconduct include, but are not limited to, child molestation, rape, incest, adultery, premarital sex, sexual harassment, voyeurism, exhibitionism, indecent liberties, obscene phone calls/texts/videos, and sexual addictions.

Harassment

Collegiate LT Programs are committed to maintaining a safe environment in which all individuals treat each other with dignity and respect and which is free from all forms of intimidation, exploitation and harassment, including sexual harassment. The Program is prepared to take action to prevent and correct any violations of this policy. Anyone violating this policy will be subject to discipline up to and including dismissal from the Program.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of sexual nature when:

- Submission to such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of an individual's employment or Program participation;
 - Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or Program decisions affecting that individual; or
 - Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working or program environment.

Procedure for Reporting and Investigating Sexual Harassment and Other Forms of Sexual Misconduct

All Program participants, directors, leaders, volunteers, and Reliant employees are required to report any incidents of sexual misconduct to the Program Director and Reliant as soon as possible. If a report of sexual harassment involves a Reliant employee, the claim should be made directly to Reliant and the Collegiate LT Program National Director.

If the claim is among Program participants, each Program will have designated individuals within the LT leadership (one male and one female) to notify if a sexual harassment concern surfaces. The Program Director will also be notified. The Program Director will contact the Collegiate LT Program National Director and the Collegiate National Elder Board LT Program representative and Reliant. The Program Director will investigate the claim and make recommendations. The final course of action will be determined by Reliant and the Collegiate National Elder Board.

Reliant employees and Program leadership and volunteers shall take appropriate steps to maintain and protect the confidentiality of the testimony of victims, those accused, and witnesses during the investigation. However, no guarantee of confidentiality can be given. This action shall be taken consonant with the Program's and Reliant's responsibility, both as a Christian ministry and as an employer, to investigate, respond to, and deal appropriately with such situations. All involved parties are encouraged to be absolutely candid and cooperative. Victims and fellow workers should be assured that they will not suffer retaliation from the Program or Reliant for reporting any incidents of sexual harassment or other forms of sexual misconduct.

Collegiate LT Program's Commitment

Collegiate LT Program's goal is to establish and maintain an environment of fairness, ethics and honesty for our employees, our volunteers, our participants, our donors, our constituents, our suppliers, and anyone else with whom we have a relationship.

The Program is also committed to the deterrence, detection and correction of misconduct and dishonesty. The discovery, reporting and documentation of such acts provides a foundation for the protection of innocent parties, the taking of disciplinary action against offenders up to and including dismissal where appropriate, the referral to law enforcement agencies when warranted by the facts, and the recovery of assets.

International Collegiate LT Programs Standards of Conduct

If you are attending a Collegiate International LT Program, you will be representing the Gospel in a different culture, the Program may have unique standards of dress, conduct, and accountability specific to its Program location.

Dismissal from the Program

I authorize Reliant, Collegiate Church Network, and the Program personnel to send Participant home at Participant's sole expense due to Participant's misconduct per established Reliant or Program guidelines, rules, or policies, whether written or otherwise, as determined in Reliant's sole discretion.

Thank you

Thank you for taking the time to complete this Collegiate LT Program assessment! An email has been sent to your spiritual reference and to your parent/guardian (if you are under 21 and not financially independent) asking them to fill out a form on your behalf. Your assessment will not be reviewed until Reliant has received those submitted form(s).

Once you complete the last payment task, your task list on the left should all be checked off. (Note: Your Parent Notification and Spiritual Reference may not be complete/checked off pending their submission of their form.) Please confirm that you have completed all tasks assigned to you. Then select MARK AS COMPLETE below and complete your payment task to finish your portion of the assessment.

You will receive an email when all of your forms (such as spiritual reference and parental/guardian) have been completed. If you have not received an email confirming Reliant has received their submission, you may want to follow up with those references.

Upon receiving the email confirming form submissions from your spiritual reference and parent/guardian, please then allow a few weeks for your assessment to be reviewed for approval by Reliant and Collegiate LT Program leadership. has limited space in the Program and a high standard for acceptance and therefore not everyone who applies will be accepted. You will receive an email from Reliant upon acceptance or non-acceptance to the Program.

Once your payment is made (last task on the left), your assessment will submit and you can no longer make any changes to your assessment.
